512th edges out 603rd, 30-22

Two extremely confident flag football teams stood on the field at Hunter Army Airfield Sept. 4, each ready to take any and all measures to beat the fillings out of the other for the Hunter flag football tournament championship.

The 603rd Headquarters Service Company challenged the 512th Quartermaster Company in the final game of the tournament, but were edged out by the 512th 30-22.

At the start of the game, 603rd coach and quarterback David Joseph said his team was sure to do "exceptionally well." His reasons?

"We have more speed, more quickness than the other team has. And, we're better looking."

Well, good looks can get some people pretty far, but they didn't pull Joseph's team through this game.

512th quarterback Kevin Brown started off the team's drive by firing a short pass to running back D'Shon McFarland, who carried it an additional 10 yards for a quick first down. Brown spread the defense with a series of short passes and finished the drive with a pass in the end zone to wide receiver Ali Sparkman, who caught it for the first points of the game.

603rd had a hard time answering back, unable to overpower their opponents' overwhelming defense, and threw several incomplete passes, surrendering the ball back to 512th on downs.

In a near repeat of the team's first possession, 512th again brought the ball down the field for its second score.

603rd running back Dwight Fields took that chance and literally ran with it, catching the team's first pass of the game and carrying the ball eight yards down the field, just short of a first down. 512th's defense held 603rd back until the fourth down, when they finally pushed through for the score. A successful two-point conversion brought the tally to 16-8, with 603rd

Tigers pounces on panthers, 43-26

Liberty County beats previous high score against Bradwell

Bradwell Institute's Running Back Ersell McCullen led the Tigers with 223 rushing yards and four touchdowns to help pave the way for the team's 43-26 victory over the Liberty County High School Panthers Friday.

Bradwell has an 11-1 record against Liberty County since the two teams began playing against each other in 1994. The 26 points the Panthers scored beat their 1999 record of 19 in their lone win over the Tigers.

"Our strategy was to stay with the basics and not try anything tricky," said Jim Walsh, Tigers' coach.

The Tigers took an early lead with an eight-yard run by McCullen that put Bradwell on the board 6-0. The two-point conversion was stopped by the Panthers' defense.

Bradwell kept the Panthers' offense from moving the ball and prevented them from scoring in the first quarter.

With the beginning of the second quarter, Liberty County broke the scoring embargo against them and tied the game, 6-6, with a 47-yard run by John Wilder, Panthers running back. Bradwell's Gary Guyton, Tigers senior defensive end/linebacker, blocked the extra-point attempt.

Bradwell scored their second touchdown and earned the two-point conversion. After a forcing Liberty County to punt, near the end of the half, the Tigers upped the score to 22-6.

With nine seconds left in the half, Quincy Thomas, Panthers' junior quarterback, returned the kickoff for 82 yards and the touchdown. A quick pass to the wide-open Zack Golden gave Liberty County the two-point conversion and narrowed the Tigers' lead to 22-14.

The Panthers received the ball at the beginning of the second half but were unable to muster drive to the end zone and were forced to punt.

The Tigers quickly went on the offensive and steadily moved down the field until they were 14 yards of the end zone. McCullen

Army of One driver returns to Richmond

Army News Service

RICHMOND, Va. — Crew chief Ryan Pemberton doesn't harbor any ill feelings or negative thoughts. Yet, he did feel that he had some unfinished business to attend to at Richmond International Raceway, site of Saturday night's Chevy Rock & Roll 400 NASCAR Winston Cup race.

The last time Pemberton was in Richmond, tuning and overseeing the performance of the No. 01 U.S. Army Pontiac, he saw a promising weekend turn to anguish.

With Jerry Nadeau behind the wheel of the Army car at the Richmond spring race, the team posted a solid qualifying effort of 12th and was running in the top three in the ensuing practice session May 2.

It was all clicking for Pemberton and Nadeau. But as the practice session went on, misfortune struck the Army team when Nadeau slammed into the wall driver-side first. He was airlifted to Virginia Commonwealth University Medical Center in Richmond where he was listed in critical condition with head, lung and rib injuries.

"That was a very difficult time," said Pemberton. "My best friend and driver was laid up in the hospital trailing as 512th again took possession of the ball.

They didn't have that privilege for long, though — 603rd safety Drake Booker snatched Brown's pass out of the air to return the ball to his team.

This time Joseph's pass met its mark, Orlando Harper, in the end zone, but a flag on the play nullified the score and gave the 512th defense another chance until Jason Shannon pushed the ball through for the 603rd, tying up the game at 16.

512th answered back with a quarterback sneak for a first down. Wide receiver Chris Morrisson then caught a screen pass and ran it in for a quick score. The team made their extra two points and took the lead at 24-16.

603rd continued their valiant struggle to score, but were held back by 512th for the next several minutes of the game. Despite accusations by an irate fan that quarterback coach Joseph was "neglecting his players," it was a pass to Shannon that set the team back on the right track, allowing Fields to carry the ball triumphantly into the end zone. Although the gap was still there, it was slightly less wide, and 603rd continued to trail 512th, 24-22.

512th wouldn't settle for a mere two-point lead, though, and left 603rd to digest running back Corey Jackson's dust as he caught Brown's pass and took off down the field for the final score of the game, leaving himself and his teammates with a 30-22 victory.

As the championship trophy was handed to the men of 512th, both teams conducted themselves with the utmost amiability.

603rd coach Joseph admitted, "It was a hard fought game, but the best team won."

Ironically, 512th coach Leon Rogers attributed the team's victory to the same thing Joseph had counted on to pull his team through.

"It was hard," said Rogers, "but the guys pulled it off ... it was our speed that did it — we're a small team, but we've got a lot of speed."

and you could sense it wasn't good. None of us wanted to be at the track, but we had a job to do. We had to get the backup car out and go find a driver. We not only had to find a driver who was willing to fill in, but one who was about the same size as Jerry. Jason Keller (Busch Series driver) agreed and he did a good job for us considering the circumstances."

Pemberton hopes he and the team's current substitute driver, Mike Skinner, will also click with a successful race at Richmond's .75-mile oval.

"Frankly, I'd like to duplicate everything in Richmond except Jerry's last lap," said Pemberton. "We had had a good qualifying run and Jerry was running real fast in race trim. We never got the chance to really show our hand. Hopefully, we'll have just as good of a combination for Mike. This will be his fifth race for us and he has done a good job."

Offering support to Pemberton and Skinner in Richmond was Nadeau, who is recovering from the injuries he sustained.

"I am going to Richmond to thank a lot of people and give my support to the team," said the 32-year-old Nadeau. "There are so many people I want to personally thank — the doctors and staff at the hospital, the emergency workers and the medical staff at the infield care center."

"Regarding the team, I think they're going to do well in Richmond. We had a fast car in May and I feel it will be just as good this weekend."

Skinner, who has a fondness for the Richmond track, is looking forward to having a fast Army Car.

"I've always liked Richmond," said Skinner, who captured the pole at this race in 1999. "We're continuing to learn and understand each other and I feel we might have found something in Darlington last week. You know what, I would like nothing more than to go out there and have a great finish for Jerry. This is his car and it would only be fitting for all of the team members to come away with a solid result in Richmond."

Marksmanship team seeks pistol shooters

Army Marksmanship Unit Public Affairs

Army News Service

FORT BENNING, Ga. — The U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit is looking for a few good shooters.

The competitive unit is putting out its annual call for soldiers interested in competing in pistol competitions in the summer of 2004.

“Soldiers who wish to represent the U.S. Army in pistol competition, marksmanship instruction and recruiting assistance are welcome to apply. This is a highly visible, fast-paced mission,” said Sgt. 1st Class Charles E. Gibbs, non-commissioned officer-in-charge of the Service Pistol Team.

The Army Pistol Team is looking for highly motivated, disciplined and competitive by nature active duty soldiers, Gibbs said, adding that no previous competitive shooting experience is required.

Staff sergeant and below with fewer than 15 years service, who obtain approval from their commanders, can travel to Fort Benning in April to train. The soldiers are trained in advanced marksmanship skills. Following training, pistol team officials will select shooters to participate in the Interservice Championships in June and the National Matches in July.

After the three-month tour, soldiers return to their units with training unit trainers can harvest to improve their soldiers marksmanship skills, Gibbs said.

Formed in 1956 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower to raise marksmanship standards throughout the Army, the Army Marksmanship Unit is assigned to the Accessions Support Brigade, U.S. Army Accessions Command at Fort Monroe, Va. The unit trains its soldiers to win competitions and enhances combat readiness through train-the-trainer clinics, research and development. The world-class soldier-athletes also promote the Army and assist recruiters in attracting young Americans to enlist.

Interested soldiers can contact Gibbs at (706) 545-7022 or 545-3893 or e-mail: Charles.Gibbs@usarec.army.mil.

For more information, visit the unit’s website at www.usamu.com.

broke through the defenders and ran the ball into the end zone. With the successful extra point, the Tigers extended their lead, 29-14.

Liberty County quickly rallied to try to narrow the gap. The Panthers forced their way to the six-yard line and were within scoring distance. Locklear got the snap and fumbled the ball but was able to recover it and make the six-yard dash into the end zone. The extra point attempt failed and the Tigers maintained a nine-point lead.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Liberty County offense brought the Tigers offense to a grinding halt and forced the special teams to line up.

The punt was a fake, catching the Panthers off guard, and gave Bradwell the chance to earn the first down with a 22 yard run by Guyton.

The play kept Bradwell’s drive alive and gave them chance to score on a two-yard run and the subsequent two-point conversion brought the Tigers lead to a commanding, 37-20.

Both teams would score one more time before the end of the game, but the victory went to Bradwell.

Jim Walsh said that, “It’s a definite start, and shows that we can win games by doing the basics.”
